

Kimberly Perry has been an educator for 12 years in Atlanta. She began her journey in education at the University of TN at Chattanooga where she received her Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education. She continued on to Jacksonville State University where she earned a Master's degree in Educational Leadership. The first six years of her teaching career began as a second and third grade teacher with the DeKalb County School System. The six years following were spent in Atlanta Public Schools at Capitol View Elementary School where she taught second and third grade. There, she served as the Second Grade Chairperson, School Council representative, Design Team member, and on several other committees.

Ms. Perry enthusiastically spends her 13th year in education joining the second grade team at Springdale Park Elementary to share her passion for teaching. She endeavors to grow her students academically and enhance their ability to think critically as well as show excellent character.

Ms. Perry is originally from Memphis, TN and she enjoys painting, traveling, riding her bicycle, and eating at new restaurants! She loves learning new things and spending time with her family.
