The Horizon

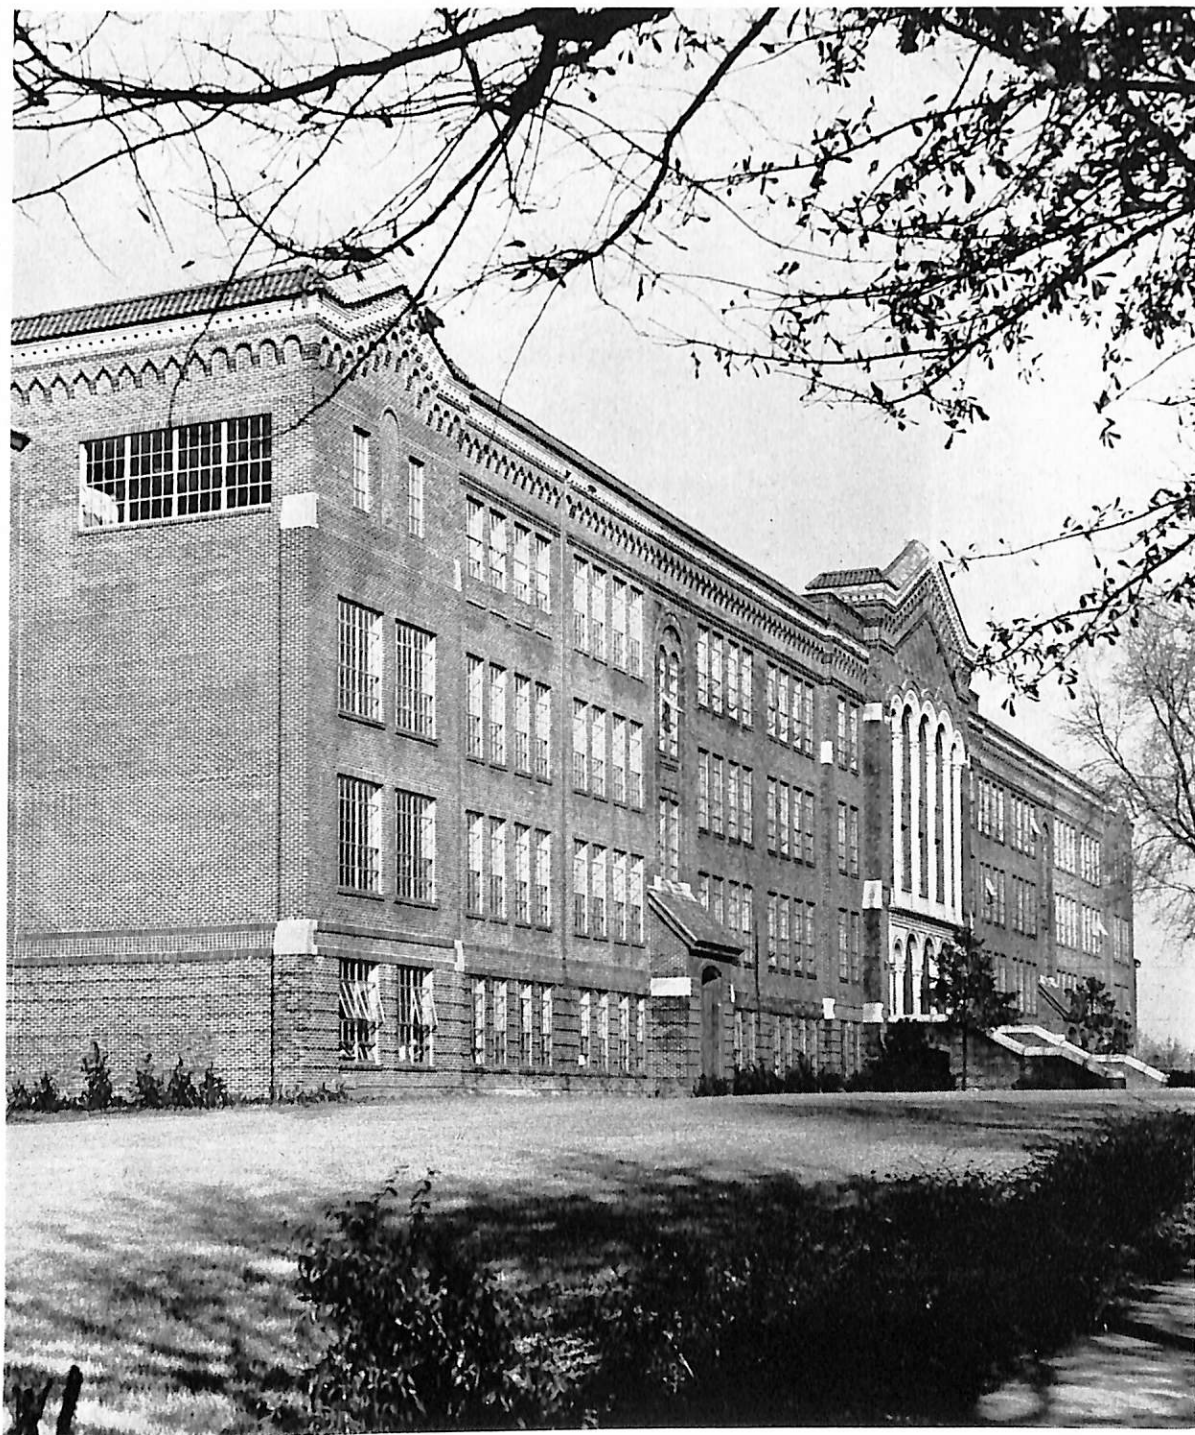

Foreword

This book is designed to give you nostalgia . . . in future years when Washington High will seem far removed from the things at hand . . . if while thumbing through these pages at some distant date you recall vividly a half-forgotten happening, a long unseen classmate, or a once-familiar campus scene . . . and you would give anything to relive the years that shaped you in more ways than you ever realized . . . this book will make you want to turn the pages of history back to the good old days spent at Washington High.

A man is himself, plus the books he reads.

Our School

Dedication

We dedicate this 1949 Year Book to Principal C. N. Cornell, Mrs. P. J. Coggins, Miss S. M. Cunningham, Mr. J. B. Prather, Miss L. C. Reeves, Mrs. L. D. Shivery, and Mrs. V. G. Taylor for the twenty-five years of service given to our school.

We also dedicate this poem, "That's Success!" to you:

It's doing your job the best you can
And being just to your fellow man;
It's making money—but holding friends
And true to your aims and ends;
It's figuring how and learning why
And looking forward and thinking high
And dreaming a little and doing much.
It's keeping always in closest touch
With what is finest in word and deed;
It's being thorough, yet making speed;
It's daring blithely the field of chance
While making labor a brave romance;
It's going onward despite defeat
And fighting staunchly, but keeping sweet;
It's being clean and it's playing fair;
It's laughing lightly at Dame Despair;
It's looking up at the stars above
And drinking deeply of life and love.
It's struggling on with the will to win
But taking loss with a cheerful grin;
It's sharing sorrow and work and mirth
And making better this good old earth;
It's serving, striving through strain and stress;
It's doing your noblest—that's Success!

The Class History

By ROSALIE RAGLIN

Five long and eventful years ago we, the seniors of 1949, were "fresh meat" eager to become a part of the huge student body and excited by the massive structure of the school building, we passed by the monument of the great Negro educator Booker T. Washington, and entered the portals of Washington High School.

Despite the handicaps of crowded classrooms and half-day sessions, we proceeded to be receptive of the knowledge our sympathetic teachers imparted. As a reward for our efforts, we had a program commemorating our passage from Junior High School to Senior High School.

For the latter three years, we have busied ourselves with furthering the prestige of our school in citizenship, scholarship, athletics, music and many other worthwhile achievements. Our success is largely a result of our most capable teachers who have readily given their assistance. To our faculty, we are deeply grateful and we will endeavor to favorably reflect the excellent training we have received from Washington High School.

Books are friends—come let us read.*

Class Poem

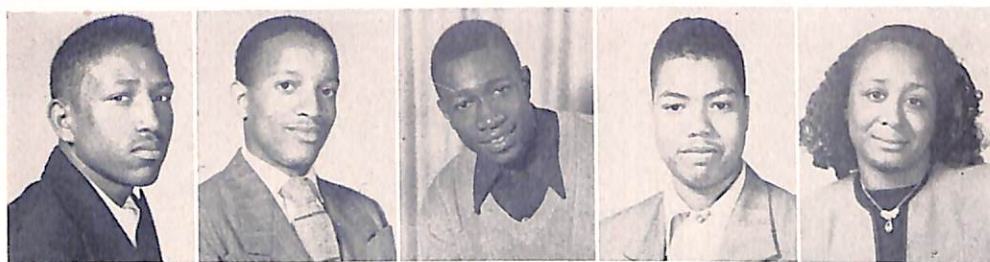

(ADOPTED)

What would we do in this world of ours
Were it not for the dreams ahead?
For thorns are mixed with the blooming flowers
No matter which path we tread.
And each of us has his golden goal,
Stretching far into the years;
And ever he climbs with a hopeful soul,
With alternate smiles and tears.
That dream ahead is what holds him up
Through the storms of a ceaseless fight;
When his lips are pressed to the wormwood's cup
And clouds shut out the light.
To some it's a dream of high estate;
To some it's a dream of wealth;
To some it's a dream of a truce with Fate
In a constant search for health.
To some it's a dream of home and school;
To some it's a crown above;
The dreams ahead are what make each life—
The dreams—and faith—and love!

Class Prophecy

We the class of 1949 have progressed from the Modern Age to the Atomic Age in which many changes took place. As I glance through my Atomic Crystal Ball, there floats a big question mark which is, "What has happened to the classmates of yore?" The question mark vanishes and a misty cloud appears. Alas! The cloud vanishes and I am in New York City walking down Fifth Avenue where Opal Gay and Sarah Woods have opened an exclusive hat shop. Among the dozens of customers whom I see are Barbara Holloway, Charlotte Thomas and Juanita Daniels, buying the latest Paris styles. Margaret Williamson, Gloria Thomas, Johnnie Yancey, Helen Brookins, Jeanie Gartrell and Evelyn Manago are Powers models. Walking through Harlem where Leon Jones and Donald Thompson are rival businessmen, I see Gloria Jackson pushing a baby carriage.

The governor of New York is Donald Yancey and his wife, June Brewer, is the First Lady of the State. It now seems that I am walking in a deep slumber and am nearing Madison Square Garden where I hear a loud cheering. I enter and see Duvahn Sayles and Walter Sullivan fighting for the heavyweight championship of the world.

In Washington, D. C., everything is quite rosy. Alvin Reid is still sporting his be-bops and has become president of the United States. His personal advisor is Jarcelyn Fields. Congresswoman Rosalie Raglin is lecturing to Congress that within the next fourteen years hence, there will be a woman as president of these United States in the White House. Agreeing with her wholeheartedly are Congresswomen Yvonne Crawl, Jacquelin Shelton, Wilmotine Few, Nina Knox and Lillian Sims. Minnie Rose James is the greatest concert pianist of this day and age. She has just been featured in a recital at Carnegie Hall. Louise Barber and Naomi Barber have opened a law office. Their first client is Ollie Bohannon who is suing her husband, Luther Turner, for divorce. Callie Smith and Catherine Clark are now busy housewives and mothers.

What's this? Do my eyes deceive me? No, it is true! Ralph Geer, Roscoe Thompson, James Dew, Johnny Tyler and Willie Flagg have organized a band called the "Music Breakers." Their mockingbirds are Constance Hawkins, Bettye Bogan and Joyce Butler. On Auburn Avenue in Atlanta, Georgia, I see Robert Collins looking for his wife, Nanella Jones, and also eyeing other girls. The name of Henry's Cabaret has been changed. It is now Robert's Cabaret, owned and managed by Robert Montgomery. His waitresses are Jacquelin Moore, Theresa Ware, Mildred Mayes and Elizabeth Wilcoxin. Nightly entertainers are Zilla Mayes, Catherine Simon, Mary Jarret, Susie Williams and Joyce Flemister. Sitting at a table sophisticatedly drinking a chocolate malt are Annie Weems and Carolyn Hill. Alvin Hall and Emory Hammock—though bending with age—can still whistle through their false teeth at the girls walking down the Avenue. Iola Webb is manager of the Royal Arts Studio where she has employed Marilyn Tucker and Georgia Matthews. Alice Hunter is having a picture made by Iola and intends to give it to Bobby Christian.

The editor of the Atlanta World is Thomas Williams and the photographer is Beauford Stinchcomb. Joseph Wynn, Homer Foster and Henry Morgan operate a rival newspaper syndicate called the Men's Tattler. Frances Clark, Jimmie Lee McGhee, Helen Manago and Betty Cash are practical nurses at Grady Memorial Hospital.

Geraldine Clarke is Dean of Women at Clark College. The President of this fine institution is Emmet Jett. Berestine O'Neal is Dean of Women at Spelman College. The President of this historical institution is Meriam Huggins. Believe—it—or—not, the Dean of Men at Morehouse College is Myron Watkins. The Principal at the Booker T. Washington High School is Frank Odom, and the Chairman of the English Department is Ruth Minor. Esther Childs is Chairman of the Music Department and the Director of the Band is Herbert Lindsey. The Chairman of the Mathematics Department is Philip Jackson, and the Coach of the Football Team is Roosevelt Taylor. The Chairman of the Art Department is James Malone; Manager of the Snackbar is Cleophus Griffin and Margaret Gantt. Clerical workers in the office at the Booker T. Washington High are Ethel Jinks, Annie Hayes, Odessa Oglesby, Walter Mae Robinson, Elizabeth Williams, and Marian Cameron.

The chef in the newly modernized cafeteria is Henry Richardson. Earnest Ellis, Robert Dooley, John Durden and Leon Cobbins have become great businessmen. Minnie Hollingsworth, Annie Respress and Betty Smith are embalmers in an outstanding undertaking establishment. James Jackson and Raleigh Parks are collaborators in a cleaning and pressing club on Hunter Street. Pauline Amey and Josie Yizor are famous lady wrestlers who appear monthly at the City Auditorium. Walter Gaines is a trolley conductor and lets all women on his trolley ride free.

As to my vision which is beginning to clear, I see J. Max Bond, Jr., President of Morehouse College lecturing to a group of young men on "How to get a Girl Friend and Keep Her." Will the following years bring about these changes, or will time stand still? That's the question I leave for you, dear classmates, to decide.

By Barbara Holloway.

Seniors in the Glee Club

The Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Essie M. Groves of the Music Department, consists of one hundred voices. This outstanding group has rendered many concerts throughout the school year and was always in popular demand. Early in the school year this group rendered a concert in the Kelley Auditorium in LaGrange, Georgia, where they were loudly acclaimed. This group also appeared at Morris Brown College and in Sister's Chapel at Spelman College during National Music Week. Recently, this group was awarded a twenty-five-dollar prize for the skit, "My Darling," in the Delta's Sorority Jabberwock.

Throughout the school year, Mrs. Essie Groves, the director of this fine group of singers, has had many honors bestowed upon her. She served as one of the judges at the Georgia State College Music Festival in Savannah, Georgia. Mrs. Groves was also chosen the Bronze Woman of the Year in Music by the Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, and had the keen distinction of being a recipient of a certificate of merit by the Civic and Educational Club of Atlanta for her outstanding contributions in the field of music.

STUDENT HERO

By Robert Lee Jefferies

One November morning as I was preparing to leave home for school, I was standing on our front porch when the next door neighbor called to me that the house next door was on fire. As I started for help, I heard someone yell which sounded like a child's voice. I ran to the front door but found it locked and being unable to burst the door open, I ran to my brother who was asleep.

We returned to the scene of the fire and my brother and I succeeded in bursting the front door open. I went into the house through a lot of smoke and heat and brought out a little boy. My uncle said that there were two more children in the house but my brother and I were unable to save them for the fire was burning too furiously. To much my sorrow, these two children burned to death. Their mother had gone to the grocery store and left the children alone in the house. I am glad I was around; of course, any boy would have done the same.

GIRLS' CHORUS

The Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Elsie F. Evans, now has its largest enrollment of 146 members. Because of the size of this group, it has been necessary to choose from the chorus a smaller ensemble to represent the chorus on many occasions. In addition to many concert engagements and radio programs, the ensemble is scheduled to appear on the Lyceum program at Fort Valley State College during the month of April.

Olympic Star Visits

Miss Alice Coachman, center, Olympic star, was a visitor on the Washington campus shortly after her return from England to the states. This high jump star, a former teammate of one of Washington's teachers, Mrs. L.P. Glover, received a great reception from the eager student body as she and her party rode off the field. Miss Coachman played basketball on the same team with Mrs. Glover when both were students at Tuskegee Institute.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Smart Styles for men only

The Activity Building at Booker T. Washington was a beautiful scene on last December 16, when the Washington High Bulldogs were feted with an elaborate banquet by the Washington High Athletic Association. Many of the players expressed their thanks and appreciation to the coaches, namely, Messrs Robinson, Baker, Puckett, Smith, Hambrick, and Powell.

The Bulldogs are the City and State Champions. Having an enviable record of eight games won and only one game lost all last season. Many outstanding guests attended the banquet. Among whom were Marion Jackson, Joel Smith of the Atlanta Daily World, Mr. Russ J. Cowans of the Chicago Defender, Mr. T. Herman Graves of David T. Howard, and Dean McPheethers of Clark College.

Several awards were given to individual players for outstanding services. John Andrews was given an award as the most outstanding athlete; Joseph McCoy, the most scholarly; Joseph Douse, the most versatile; Adolph Phillips, the best conditioned; Frank Odum, the best diagnostician; Harold Turner and Charlie Malone, the most improved players; Alvin Hall, the most outstanding tackle, James Bell, the most outstanding end, Billy Hardin, the most conscientious; Stephen Sheeley, the most outstanding morale builder, Wesley Swanson, the best defensive player.

Jackets and Footballs were awarded John Andrews, Frank Anderson, Joseph Bell, Ernest Blackmon, Robert Battle, John Cullpepper, Leon Cobbins, James Crute, Stephen Sheeley, Joseph Douse, John Fouch, Walter Gaines, Alvin Hall, Emory Hammock, Billy Hardin, Joseph McCoy, Charlie Malone, Frank Malone, Frank Odum, Adolph Phillips, Harold Petty, Wesley Swanson, Robert Stovall, Harold Turner, Donald Thompson, and Elijah White.

Mr. C.N. Cornell, principal, welcomed the many visiting guests and extended words of congratulations to the Bulldogs for the outstanding work on the gridiron.

By Richard Williams and James Mayes

Greetings Squires. This has been a month of sales and sales galore; so why don't you boys catch some of these sales and get a nice sport jacket? The most popular materials are flannel, gabardine, suede and corduroy.

If it's shoes you want, you should try suedes. Remember that the rough side of calf is the smooth side of styles.

To you Esquire fans, Pic is the magazine to watch.

Coming back to shoes, there are a few pairs of shoes around the campus. Could it be that the fellows have found out where to get them?

A word in closing—if you don't have a six buttoned binnie, you're beat.

BASKETBALL

(BOYS)

The Blue and White Bulldogs increased their winning streak by edging out the Hudson Tigers 41-40.

During the first quarter, the Tigers held a 9-3 lead over the Bulldogs. The score at the end of the first quarter was 9-3.

The second quarter speeded up 11-9, the Tigers still holding their slim lead. At half time, the Tigers led the Bulldogs 15-11.

As the second half began, the fire works let loose, and the Bulldogs put on a strong rally, moving out in front 23-22.

The end of the third quarter found the Bulldogs with a 6 point margin over the Tigers 35-29.

The fourth and final quarter found both teams hustling for every point, but the Bulldogs kept the ball moving and the Tigers were baffled to find that the Bulldogs could not be stopped.

The final whistle found the score board reading—Washington High 41 and Hudson High 40 with a Bulldog victory.

The boys performing well for the Bulldogs were: Lorenzo Worrell, Westley Swanson, R.B. Battle, Charles Hill, Alfred Ellis and James Ross. Ellis was high point man with 17 points.

Pea Willie was high point man for Hudson High with 23 points.

(GIRLS)

The girls basketball teams of Washington High and Hudson High got off to a slow start in the first quarter with the Hudson High girls taking the lead 4-3.

During National Negro History Week the class of 8H-7 talked about such outstanding American Negroes as Booker T. Washington, Mary McLeod Bethune, Marion Anderson, Paul Laurence Dunbar and Jackie Robinson. Best of all, the class enjoyed reading Booker T. Washington's "Up From Slavery" because of its lesson of patience and courage.

Some of the class contributed pictures of great Negroes for the hall display in "C" Building.

Annie Ruth Bailey, reporter

The class of 11H-8 under the leadership of Mr. Cureton, discussed many famous Negroes during Negro History Week.

Iona Chunn, reporter

"There are approximately six thousand volumes of books in the library at Washington High School," according to the librarian, Mr. F.M. Nelson.

During the course of the interview, Mr. Nelson was asked about the securing of books for the library. "A certain amount of money is to be spent on each student and a school fee is paid by each student at the beginning of each semester."

Answers to other inquiries brought out the fact that magazines and newspapers are also purchased from the same fund. The library is a place where all students are welcome.

Loring Valentine

At the end of the first quarter, Hudson High led by the score 9-5.

In the second quarter, the Hudson High Girls began to find the range on the basket and ran the score up to 17-7.

At the half time, the score was 19-7, Hudson High girls leading.

At the beginning of the third quarter, the Hudson girls increased their lead 25 to 7, and at the end of the third quarter the score was 29 to 11.

In the fourth and final quarter, the Hudson girls found the range on the basket and ran the score up to 41-11.

The girls who played well for Washington High were Pauline and Agnes Amey, Wilhemenia Dorsey, Lucia Stevens, Amanda Baldwin, Lawrence Weaver and Barbara Johnson.

The game between the Bulldogs and and the Athens Bulldogs proved to be one of the most exciting ones ever played by the girls of B.T.W.

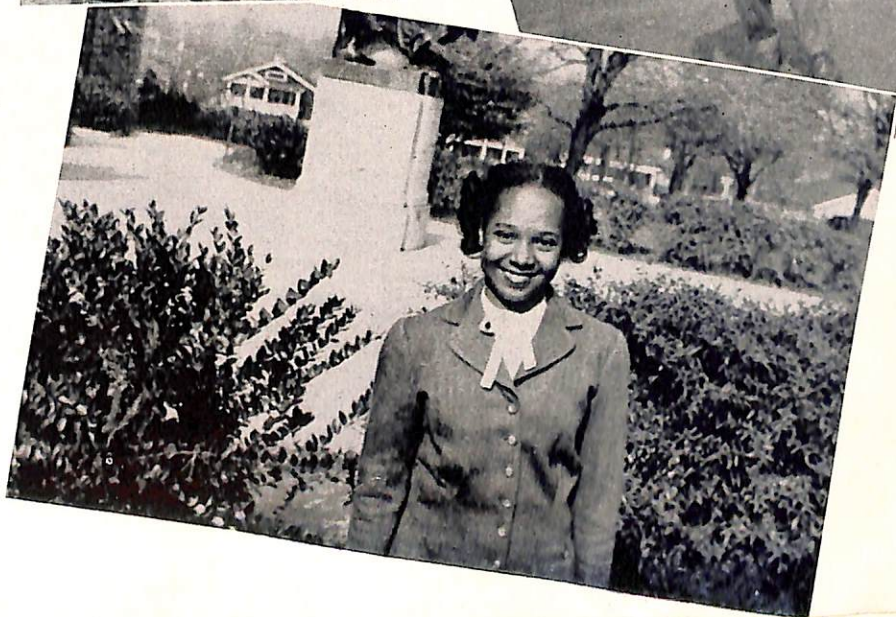

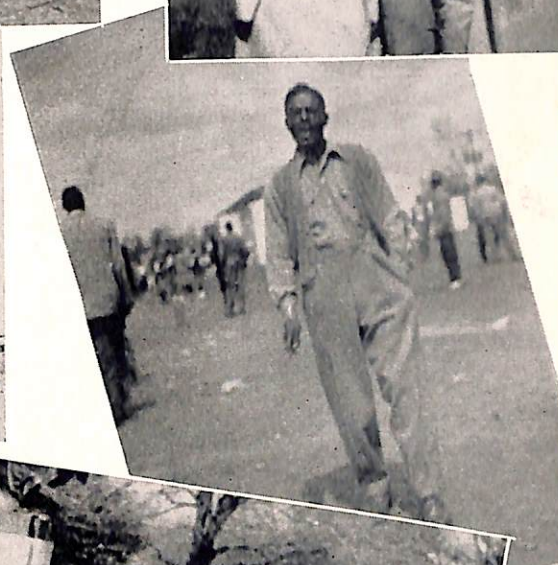

The first quarter showed both teams trying hard to win. Breaking the ice was Lucia Stevens who gave a one hand shot that gave B.T.W. a two point lead early in the first quarter.

Wilhemenia Dorsey and Pauline Amey began to hit from the center of the court, giving B.T.W. a slim 8-5 lead at half time.

The second half saw Athens High finding the range, and leading the B.T.W. team 12-10 at the end of the third quarter.

The fourth quarter saw Wilhemenia Dorsey, Lucia Stevens and Pauline Amey starting the fire works. The battle ended with B.T.W. victorious over Athens.
