Shoutsout to you

The 2013-2014 yearbook is the product of a collaborative effort between a group of dedicated hard-working and creative journalism students, from the graduating senior class and a few of our juniors. Our primary goal has been to produce and publish a memorable and exciting chronicle of this school year. This amazing assembly of individuals were carefully screened and selected according to their special interests, unique abilities, teacher recommendations, as well as for their demonstration of excellence in academics and conduct. Involvement in the Yearbook Club offers students the extraordinary opportunity to hone important life skills such as organization, time management, team work, leadership, and goal setting all while preserving tradition and having fun!!!!

Booker T. Washington

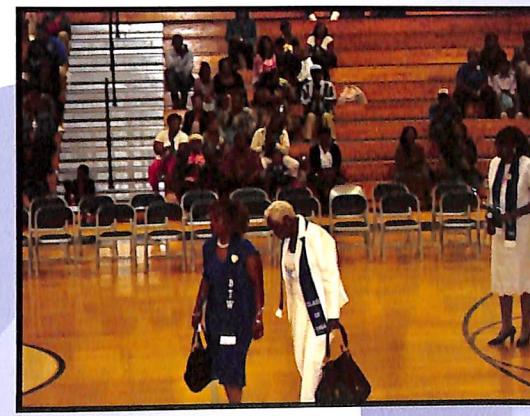

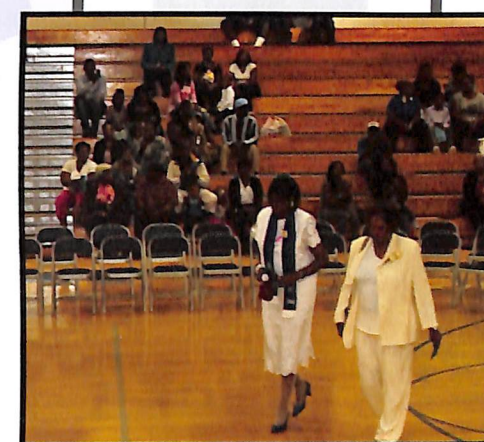

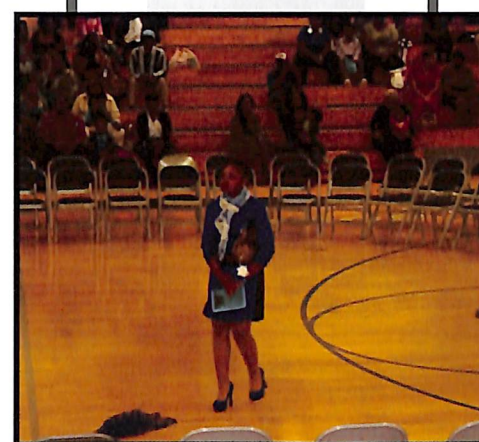

Alma Mater Washington! Oh, Washington!

"WASHINGTON! O WASHINGTON!"
Washington! O Washington!
Thy name shall be thy guide,
For learning, fame, renown,
and gain
Our gratitude abides.
As long as God's eternal love
Shall hold their portals wide
For God and man in every land
We'll serve for Washington.

Chorus
Washington! O Washington!
Thy name shall be our guide
For God and man in every land
We'll serve for Washington.

Washington! O Washington!
Thy name shall never die.
Our hearts are thine, thy fame shall shine
O'er earth and sea and sky.
Thy halls shall echo memories,
Thy precepts reign sublime,
Where'er we roam, where'er
our home
We'll live for Washington.

Lyrics: Mrs. L. D. Shivery

Work Hard, Long Hours, Ready to Compete

Principal George Rutledge

My name is George G. Rutledge, and it is definitely a privilege and an honor for me to serve as the interim principal of Booker T. Washington High School Early College. Although this small school has only been in existence for 3 years, it has already established a strong tradition of excellence in the sense that students are achieving academically, socially and mentally. According to the Value-Added Index, our students are receiving 12 months of education in 9 months. This is primarily due to the fact that our teachers have high expectations for their students, that our students are indeed engaged, and our parents, guardians, and stakeholders are involved their education.

This year we will graduate our second senior class, and we are all excited.

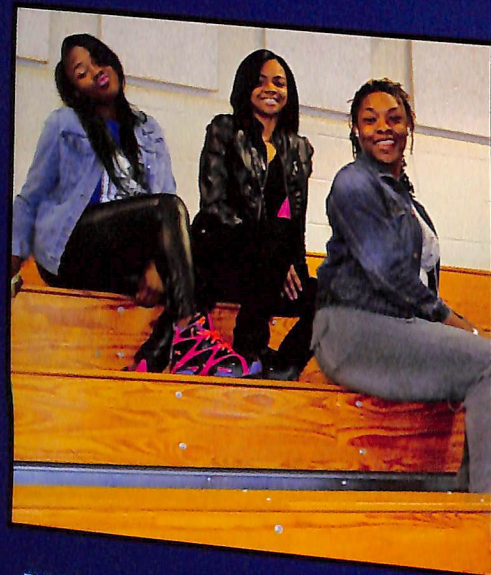

We are excited because we believe that students are well prepared to either continue their post-secondary education, for those who have been attending CAU,GSU, AMC to enter the workforce, or the military.They will continue to be critical thinkers, life-long learners and productive citizens.

Early College

Students interacting with one another creating life long bonds, and engaging with friends when the work is finish.

Achieving GREAT Things through Pride, Progress & Professionalism!

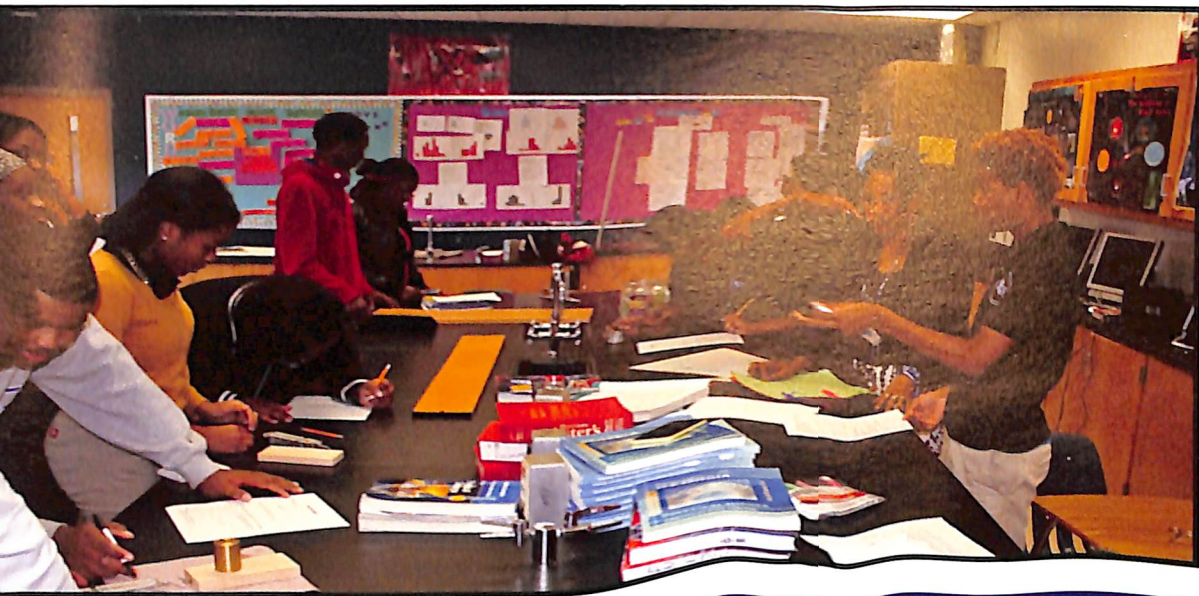

Principal Samuel Scavella, Ph.D.

MESSAGE FROM PRINCIPAL

As the educational leader of Booker T. Washington High School of Health Science and Nutrition (BTWHSN), I accept full responsibility for the instructional and organizational status of the school. I believe it takes all stakeholders engaging in planning, implementing, assessing, monitoring, and financing schools to achieve outstanding student performance. Educational institutions must be built in a manner that will produce successful citizens. To this end, I realize that all administrators, support staff, teachers, paraprofessionals, custodians, food service employees, parents/guardians, community members and business partners must work collaboratively to partner with, prepare, support and develop our children intellectually, socially and morally in order to maximize academic potential and arrive at high student performance and achievement.

As principal of Booker T. Washington small school of HSN, I promise to employ shared decision-making as I incorporate a team-based approach to create and maintain a culture that promotes student learning. I promise to implement correlates common to all effective schools: strong instructional leadership, high expectations of student achievement, a broadly understood instructional focus and effective teaching strategies, a safe and orderly climate conducive for teaching and learning, and frequent measures of student achievement as a basis for program evaluation and improvement. I promise that we will work together to provide a viable and guaranteed curriculum coupled with instructional practices that are relevant, challenging, and foster excellence. In truly effective schools, all children learn. There are no excuses!

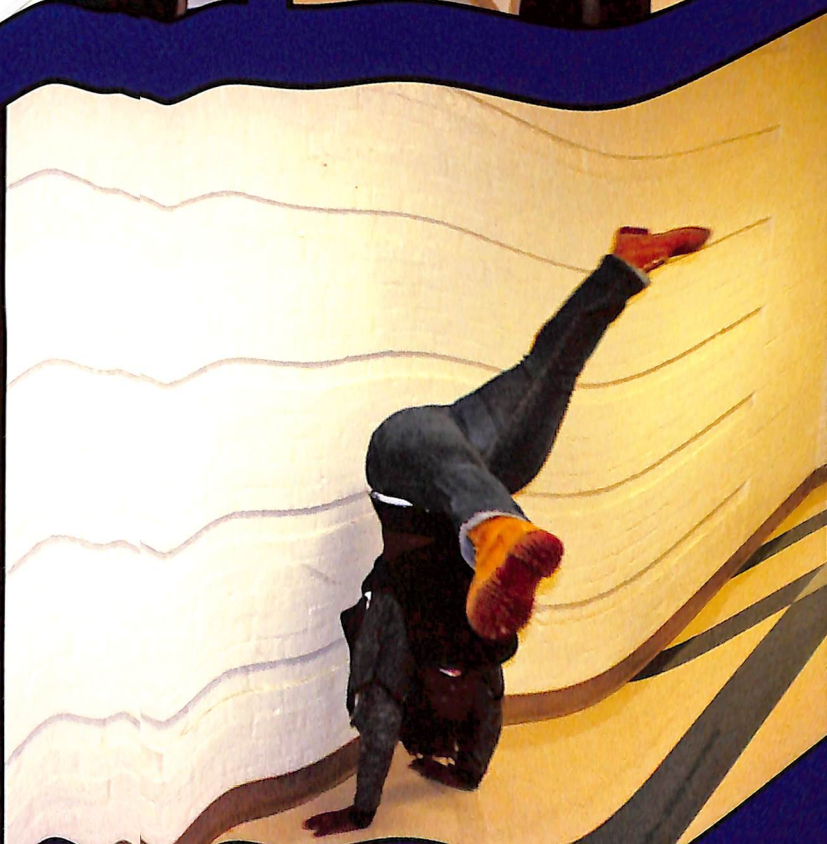

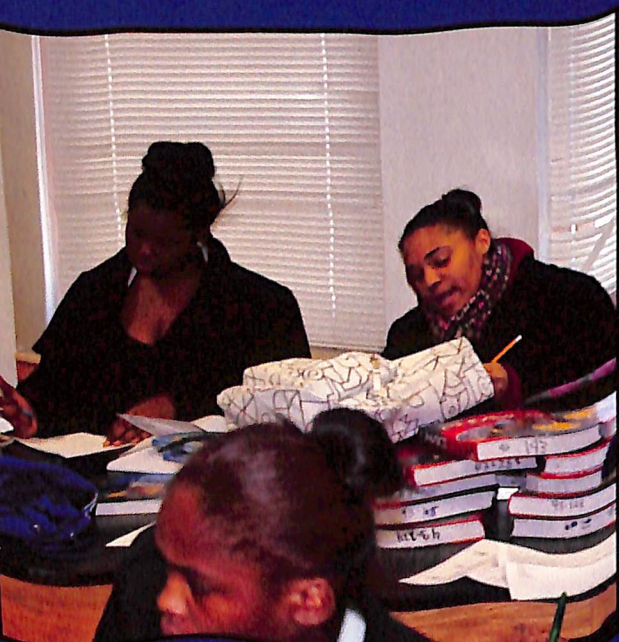

Q A

What was your favorite class and why?

MESSAGE FROM PRINCIPAL

It's been a wonderful five years in BULLDOG COUNTRY!

It's certainly been a wonderful five years with you all in Bulldog Country. You have shown me what wonderful students you are and what great Washington Alumni you will become. I love the way you greet me in the mornings, the way you never hold grudges even after I have reprimanded you, the way you always have an answer for me, the way you always try to represent the school in all that you do. When people ask me what I find so fascinating about Booker T. Washington High School-Banking, Finance & Investment, I tell them it is because you have such great loyalty for the school and you let us push you to OUR limits and often times that is far beyond your own. This is what we are here for and will always be her for; to push you. We want you all to be the greatest leaders of the future. Remember a leader is a person that takes you to a place that you would not go by yourself; therefore every bulldog must be a LEADER. Remember we are moving from 45 to 1600!

I am not just speaking about you students, only but that cloud of unseen witness also – your elder comrades – those who have passed the school gates some a long time before you were born. You have a great heritage and I am so proud to have contributed towards it. I am so proud of the many students who remain involved in sports, band, chorus, FBLA, Kappa League, GQ, book club and the many other clubs and organizations here at the school. Never give up on your pursuit of excellence. Stay positive; a positive spirit and a positive attitude can only amount to a positive outcome.

I would also like to say 'Thank you' for allowing me to be a part of this wonderful inspiring exciting never-ending story of Bulldog Nation. I would like to thank the teachers for the wonderful opportunity they gave me to help them build the Hall of Scholars; the THIRD FLOOR. They had a great vision and I have been very blessed to be a part of that vision and that dream. I thank them for their trust in me and their support; they have been with me through every difficult time, backing me up every time I needed help and laughing with me as we made it through this final year of the small schools. I want to thank my fellow principals, Mr. Rutledge and Dr. Scavella ,who have been with me side by side as we worked out how to make this school one of the top performing in the district. Gentlemen, we did it and now we must move to our next destination.

To the parents and community leaders, I want to thank each and every one of you for all your support, and for entrusting me with your children for the past five years. I am honored and feel so fortunate to have been given the opportunity to be a part of the Washington High School Family. I have so many wonderful memories of my time at BTW. During my five years here, I have fostered relationships with many of you and I will cherish the memories and friendships.

Although it's hard to say goodbye to Bulldog nation, the hardest part of leaving is saying goodbye to you my students. I have grown so attached to you over the years. I have loved watching you grow up into amazing young people. You all have truly touched my heart and life. I will certainly treasure my memories of you. Again, I thank you for allowing me to serve and I wish you success in all you do.

Yours in Education,

Charcia M. Nichols, Ed. D.

Advisor's Comment

Working with students, as bright and talented as you all, to complete this important piece of memorabilia has been one of the highlights of my year. The creativity and hard-work you have applied to this work of art has truly paid off and is highly appreciated. Planning this yearbook taught both leadership and teamwork skills that can be put to great use in the future. To the seniors, I wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors, and prosperity in your collegiate and vocational pursuits. I am extremely proud of you and all that you have accomplished, thus far. You have excelled beyond my expectations and you will continue to grow and blossom into beautiful, intelligent, and successful adults. Wishing you all the best!!!!
