

What is a School-Parent Compact?

A School-Parent Compact is an agreement that parents, students, and teachers develop together. It explains how parents and teachers will work together to make sure all our students reach grade-level standards.

Effective compacts:

- Link to goals of the school improvement plan.
- Focus on students learning objectives
- Describe how teachers will help students develop those skills via high-quality instruction.
- Share strategies parents can use at home
- Explain how teachers and parents will communicate about student progress
- Describe opportunities for parents to volunteer, observe, and participate in the classroom.

Jointly Developed

The parents, students, and staff of Booker T. Washington High School developed this School Parent Compact for Achievement. Teachers suggested home learning strategies and supports, parents added ideas to make them more specific, and students told us what would help them learn. Meetings are held each year to review the compact and make changes based on student needs. Compacts and parent feedback forms are located in the front office and online.

Parents are welcome to contribute input at any time.

Our Goals for Student Achievement

Atlanta Public Schools Goals

ACADEMIC PROGRAM ...

Our students will be well-rounded individuals who possess the necessary academic skills and knowledge and are excited about learning.

Booker T. Washington High School's Goals

Achievement Gap:

2020-2021 To improve overall student achievement, Booker T. Washington High School will focus on the following goals:

- Increase percentage of students performing within the Lexile band by 5% and up (as measured by the Winter 2019 Star Results)
- 70% and up of students will demonstrate typical to high growth as measured by pre and post-tests.

Teachers, Parents, and Students—Together for Success

In the Classroom

The teachers will work with students and their families to support students' success in all content areas. Some of our key connections with families will be:

- Support teaching, learning and reinforcement by providing additional academic support via teacher web pages.
- Provide ELA and or Math tutorials for students that have a grade of "C" or lower.
- Utilize Thursday conference days to communicate with parents regarding student's academic progress.
- Provide Parents regular updates of student progress every 4-5 weeks.

At Home

Booker T. Washington High School's parents have been invited to develop ideas about how families can support students' success in all content areas. Families may have other ideas to add to this list:

- Attend Curriculum Workshops and Principal's Coffees
- Sign Up and Monitor Parent Portal on a weekly basis
- Visit student's teacher's website to obtain supplemental activities to aid in student's understanding of skills and concepts
- Be knowledgeable about student's assignments and requirements
- Assist my child in requesting and completing tutorial for ELA or Math when grade falls to a "C" or below.

Booker T. Washington High School Students

Booker T. Washington High School students joined with staff and parents to develop ideas about how they can succeed in school and reach for goals in all content areas. Students thought of the following ideas to make connections between learning at home and school:

- Be knowledgeable about personal academic progress through Parent Portal, student agenda and conferences
- Attend school tutorial programs in Math, ELA, Science and Social Studies
- Utilize available workshops and resources for career, college and academic assistance.
- Use teacher's webpage to obtain support materials for additional study and assistance.
- Seek academic assistance when my grades in Math or ELA fall to a "C" average.
