

Students of the Month

January &
February

Perkerson Elementary School - Grades PreK-2

This month we focused on EFFORT as our core value.
The students listed below exemplified this value through their words and actions.

Pre-K/Kindergarten

Kyrie Franklin - He comes to school each day with the expectation that he is going to have a great day. He tries very hard to follow the classroom routines and is eager to please!

Caiden Hood - He demonstrates maximum effort in everything that he learns with a fascination that warms your heart.

Maleah Meeks-Diggs - She gives maximum effort when she goes through her academic day.

Alex Infinger - He has done an excellent job demonstrating PAW behavior daily; especially working hard to finish his work independently.

First Grade

Ashani Lynn Hagbourne - She always tries her best, especially in math. She has grown so much in such a short time due to her resilience and determination to learn and achieve.

Mia Meeks-Diggs - She shows determination each day to excel academically and socially. She is a self-motivator, independent worker and provides many ideas with her quiet voice.

Jacoby Jackson - He is always the first one in ready to learn position and he works very hard during math lessons in checking his work. During Foundations he is always ready with a sentence for me that matches the new trick word. He had the most dojo points out of the whole class and is such a good example for the class.

Terianna Way - She has been demonstrating maximum effort in the classroom. She is consistently engaged and has been working very hard.

Second Grade

Tenia Waller - She is a hard worker. She demonstrates maximum effort when completing assignments or any new task.

London Baines - She shows maximum effort in everything she does. She is consistently working hard and engaged day in and day out.

Sadiamond Dix - She consistently gives maximum effort in everything she does on a daily basis. It is obvious that she values her education and is serious about doing her very best. She has been the top reader in Second Grade for two months in a row. She continues to strive to be the best she can be in all areas of her life. She is respectful, kind and helpful to others.

Donovan Davis - He shows maximum effort in completing all of his class assignments and homework.
