Research Paper: MLA Style

NOTECARDS
MLA FORMAT
WORKS CITED
Steps in the process

- Locate sources of information
  - Links on library webpage
  - READ!!!
- Create source cards
- Create summary card and notecards for each source
- Create outline
- Notecards by topic
- Write paper using parenthetical citations
- Works Cited Page
What are Source Cards?

First, you will need a source card. This is how you will keep track of where you got each piece of information.

*If any information is missing from your source, skip that portion of the citation and move onto the next available piece of information. See notes about “Publisher’s Name” and “Publication Date”.

Your source card should look something like this:

Refer to your handout from Ms. Taft for information on how to format your citation.

Any line after the first line in your citation should be indented about a thumb space.

If this information isn't available, use the abbreviations “n.p.” or “n.d.”
Sources of Information

Grady High School Library Webpage
Hint: Google “Grady High School”, go to Media Center Tab.

Passwords:
GALILEO: coast
Gale: grady from school,
remote from home.
Sample Source Card with Summary

Your summary notecard should include the following information: Section title (in this case “summary”), Source Number, and a summary written in your own words.

Summary | #1
---|---
Rick Berman is the leading PR point person for the fight against raising the minimum wage. He argues that raising the minimum wage will cost jobs and hurt the economy.
In 1938, Congress passed the Fair Labor Standards Act FLSA which established a federal minimum wage for all employees and also set standards for compensation for working more than 40 hours per week. Workers who worked longer than 8 hours are to be compensated “time and a half” or the minimum plus half for every hour over 8 hours. Workers who worked longer than 12 hours are to be compensated double minimum wage. These rules are exempt for management, executives, secretaries, and other administrative jobs. Consequently, many employers now reclassify jobs to avoid paying over-time.
Summary

#3

Table showing history of minimum wages increases 1938-2009
MLA Research Outline

Based on your preliminary reading and source summaries, create an outline for your paper.

It should look like this.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Your Topic</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I. Section 1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a. Fact/Information</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>b. Fact/Information</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>II. Section 2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a. Fact/Information</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>III. Section 3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a. Fact/Information</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IV. Section 4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a. Fact/Information</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>V. Section 5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a. Fact/Information</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Name
Class
Period #
Date
What should my notecards look like?

Your notecards should include the following information: Section Title, Source Number, and 1 Fact or Piece of Information from your source.

This should match the section title from your outline.

Only 1 fact per card.

This should match the source card number.
Rick Berman is head of a PR firm that has ties to the restaurant industry and is responsible for many campaigns including the response to an e coli outbreak that attempted to reframe the issue as an example of existing standards that were working well. (Gray)

The parenthetical citation uses the “signal word” or first word for the citation on your works cited page. Include the page number if available. (Internet sources may not have a page number.)
