Greetings Raider Family,

One of my favorite leaders is Coretta Scott King. Her life's work reflects the hope of our community and nation as we face societal challenges. She remained committed to social change despite challenges she faced as she partnered with her husband, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. She never allowed the horrible conditions African Americans and other communities of color experienced to change her dream of a better future for all. Mrs. King served as an excellent example of dignity, strength, and compassion for young women to aspire to imitate. During this Women's History Month, I would like to honor her legacy for women in leadership by sharing the following quote: "Women, if the soul of the nation is to be saved, I believe that you must become its soul."
